

Special Lecture Presentation

Carl V. Hill, PhD, MPH, leads the National Institute on Aging's (NIA) efforts in stimulating health disparities research related to aging. Dr. Hill is director of the Office of Special Populations. In this position, he helps to facilitate studies focused on health disparities; supports the development of initiatives to enhance NIA's research and training efforts targeting underrepresented groups, including minorities and women; and provides advice and guidance to senior staff on health research related to special populations.

Health Disparities Research with the National Institute on Aging (NIA)

Friday, March 15, 2019
11:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m.
HSLC 1345

All faculty, staff, students, and trainees are invited and encouraged to attend.

Wisconsin Alzheimer's
Disease Research Center

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AND PUBLIC HEALTH

