UPCOMING PROGRAM

The Intersection of Intimate Partner Violence, Sexual Assault, Trafficking and STI/HIV Risk in Indigenous Women: Providing Survivor Led, Advocacy Driven, and Culturally Safe Care

Wednesday, December 16, 2020 | 12:00 - 1:00 PM Central Time

More than half of American Indian and Alaska Native women will experience sexual violence in their lifetimes, according to the Department of Justice. Yet, they often don’t seek medical care and support due to medical distrust and the lack of culturally safe care. Attend this webinar to improve your ability to provide culturally safe care and STI and HIV screening and prophylaxis.

Learning Objectives

- Recognize how exposure to intimate partner violence increases an Indigenous women’s risk for contracting sexually transmitted infections and HIV.
- Identify two resources to support sexual transmitted infection screening and immediate access to HIV post-exposure prophylaxis.
- Describe three strategies for delivering culturally safe care to survivors of sexual assault and intimate partner violence.
